

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

To provide a business processing technical art which can carry out an order reception with a shortened waiting time of a customer, when carrying out an business through a network, an order reception processing section (122) carries out processing for receiving an on-line input of order
5 information on specified business from an orderer, and processing for obtaining payment certifying information for certifying payment for the order. Further, an authorization request processing section (123) carries out an authorization request about payment certifying information through
10 a payment center. At this time, the order reception processing section (122) supplies the orderer an on-line output of information indicating that the order has been received without waiting for presentation of a result of the authorization.